

Think of a land

Think of a Land filled with culture
A Land overflowing with history A Land ravaged by war through the millennia that found a long awaited peace

A Land of winners and won That rebuilt what was lost
But the quiet won't last long a glooming doom approaches

From the east and the West they built armies while we rebuilt a State they who once won and now are coming for more

Think of a mesmerizing Land it explored, researched, built and traded, that once was at the center of the world, but now the world is pushing it behind
